Kol Ishah: A Woman's Voice

Wednesday, February 8, 2012

12:00pm

Cantor Falkow Lounge

A woman's voice was once considered by rabbis as a source of sexual provocation and thus justified their prohibition against female participation in public life, especially public ritual. Today we are able to listen to women whose scholarly credentials permit them to speak with authority about Jewish tradition.

Guest Speakers:

Shoshana Elkins, Vice President of Clinical Services with Jewish Family & Children's Services will present, "Resources in Tucson for Women"

AND

Eileen Warshaw, Director of the Jewish History Museum will present, "Historical Jewish Women of Tucson"

Women's League AND Men's Club Members $10
Guests $12

Includes lunch of quiche, salad, fruit and dessert made by members of Women's League.

~ Please RSVP by Feb. 3 ~
