

Congregation Anshei Israel
ADULT STUDIES KOLLEL

The medical options available to both doctors and their patients at times can be overwhelming. What we're able to do is limited only to what science allows. What we ought to do is another issue entirely.

In this five-week lecture/discussion series, we will explore some of the issues we are confronted with every day.

Each session will be led by a visiting scholar and Rabbi Robert Eisen, with time allowed for questions and discussion.
