This year's program features an exhibition of a catalogue of 10 of Micha Bar-Am's works.

Bar-Am is a renowned Israeli journalistic photographer whose most prominent pictures are from when he covered the Six-Day War in 1967.

His is a compassionate eye capturing wartime life. Bar-Am has called Israel his "lifetime assignment" and his pictures are visual statements about the fascinating complexity of Israeli life.

Rabbi Robert Eisen will share the story of how Congregation Anshei Israel came into possession of the photos.

Local artist Tidhar (TD) Ozeri will explore their "form and function."
