

COVID-19 and Food Insecurity in Israel

A Discussion with Lauren Yokèd of American Friends of Leket Israel

Thursday, November 18
6:15pm on Zoom

Hear about the far-reaching effects of the pandemic in Israel, particularly in relation to food insecurity. Join us for a discussion with Lauren Yokèd, Executive Director of American Friends of Leket Israel, to learn more about COVID-19's short- and long-term impact on Israelis of all socioeconomic backgrounds — families, the elderly, the newly unemployed, and more.

Leket Israel, Israel's National Food Bank and premier food rescue organization, collects and rescues 40 million pounds of surplus, high-quality food annually that would have gone to waste, and distributes it to 300 non-profit partners feeding 246,000 people of all backgrounds each week.
